

RFQ QUESTION

Q. Can UPS or FedEx be used for pick-up and delivery for the coveralls at Navy base in Washington and Nevada?

A. Commercial carries, i.e., UPS and/or FedEx, can be used to ship the to-be-washed GORE-TEX coveralls to the contractor's washing facility -- these coveralls shall be considered HAZMAT as they will be permeated with Jet Fuel -- most of which likely will have evaporated. Follow the shipper's instructions for shipment of HAZMAT.

Shipping of cleaned GORE-TEX coveralls back to the respective base activity can be accomplished as would be for any textile garment and in this case doesn't require HAZMAT handling.
